

Team Fundraising

Last week we introduced the Running Rooms new event fundraising responsive design.

As you know the new fundraising tools allow your event participants to fundraise as a part of a team as well. The mobile fundraising tools allows fundraisers to set up a team or join a team and display that team affiliation on the invitations that they send out to family and friends in support of the teams fundraising goals. In this example below you can see how the invitation email displays a participants personal goals and progress but also the overall team goals and progress. In addition if there are multiple charities involved we display the progress of each charity on the fundraising barometer.
